MR. ROUSEVELT, POLICE COMMISSIONER.

GOOD REASON FOR HIS SELECTION. From The Baltimore American.

We can easily understand why Mayor Strong wants him as one of the Folice Commissioners of New-York City. There is the finest opportunity for reform in that place to be found anywhere in the country, and Mr. Rooseveit will attack it with the zest of a man who never gets tired as long as he is on a trail.

MAYOR STRONG'S DELAY JUSTIFIED. From The Buffalo Express.

Mayor Strong was justified in his iong delay, since it resulted in changing Mr. Rooseveit's determination not to desert his post at Washington. The National Civil Service Commission needs him, but there is even harder and more important work ahead of him in New-York, and the cleansing of Augean stables is Mr. Rooseveit's specialty.

FINE CHANCE FOR A SPORTSMAN. "Teddy" Roosevelt accepts and will go after "big

A PIECE OF LUCK FOR THE CITY.

From The Hartford Courant. From The Harderi Courant.

There is every reason for believing that New-York City will be in great luck if it gets Theodore Roosevelt as a Police Commissioner. There are some reasons for believing that, in the actual state of things, Mr. Roosevelt would be even more useful in the Police Commissionership than in his present office.

THE KIND NEW-YORK NEEDS.

From The Providence Journal. The appointment of Theodore Roosevelt as Police Commissioner in New-York, and his acceptance of the post, would bring a well-trained man of affairs and a trustworthy citizen into the public service in the metropolis, and that is the kind of official that New-York stands in need of to-day.

A LOSS TO CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

From The Springfield Union. It is now believed that Theodore Roosevelt will accept the appointment of Police Commissioner which has been offered to him by Mayor Strong. That will be a good thing for New-York, but the loss of Mr. Roosevelt will be seriously felt in the United States Civil Service Commission.

ONE MORE WILL ASSURE REFORM.

From The New-York World. A reform of the police organization was one of the definite objects voted for by the people at the November election, and if the Police Board member-ship can be completed by the appointment of two Commissioners who will work in harmony with Au-drews and Roosevelt such a reform may be consid-ered assured.

THE RIGHT WAY TO TREAT THE NEWS.

From The Journal of Education. The New-York Tribune—daily and weekly—main-lains the same high standard of excellence that the same high standard of excellence that was given it in the days of Horace Greeley. No was given it in the marica so uniformly gives the news of the schools in the Eastern. Western and Central States. Its treatment of those phases of news that the schools do well to emphasize is scholarly, in good spirit, and thoroughly reliable.

NEWSPAPERS.

HE DEPRECATES WHAT HE CONSIDERS A LEAN-ING TOWARD SENSATIONALISM-DR. BATTEN ON RELIGIOUS WEEKLIES.

The twelfth of the series of conferences which are being held for the furtherance of good municipal government, under the suspices of the NIAth As-League, took place last night in the Amity Building. West Fifty-fourth-st. The subject under dis-cussion was "The People's Literature." The daily newspaper and the religious weekly each formed he basis of an address, and the comic papers were also to have received similar attention but for the absence of Albert Shaw, Editor of "The Review of Reviews," to whom the task was resigned. nference was presided over by the Rev. Leighton Williams, The Rev. Samuel Zane Latter read a paper on "The Religious Weekly." He severely criticised what he called the stereotyped form and generally mercenary instincts of the present day religious weekly, and urged the necessity of their and religious problems. The Rev. Dr. L K, Funk, Editor of "The Homilette Review," speaking upon the theme of "The Daily Newspaper," said the great fault of metroes was their leanings to sensationalism Upon this topic he added:

Upon this topts he added:

The daily newspaper of to-day is frightfully defective. It panders to a most vitlated taste, to theated brains and alcerated hearis. Recently one of the leading dailies of this city gave an inch to a great gathering of scientists in New York that will go down to history, and in an opposite column gave ten inches to a till robbery by a boy. A visat number of people through our common school system is being added to the ranks of newspaper regiders. A great proportion of this mass lacks refinement of taste and a discriminating mind and heart. The daily paper is ever reaching down to the level of this multitude. The price of a only was formerly to cents, it dropped from that price to 5, 5, 2 and even I cent. The editor and the publisher care little for the higher order of the people. They are after the lower millions and a great circulation. The advertising patronage depends on the circulation, and it is on the advertising patronage days of the circulation, and it is on the advertising patronage days of the circulation, and it is on the advertising patronage days of the circulation, and it is on the advertising patronage days of the circulation of a sumble of great daily of to-day lives. An examination has been made of a sumbler of great dailing, and to diffusionate the it is on the advertising patronage that a great daily of to-day lives. An examination has been made of a number of great dailies, and to filiascrate the smazing proportions to which this evil has grown I will read you the result obtained from one of the important dailies of New York. This journal gave or time in seven tissues 7 times as much as a much apace as to labor, 82 times as much as to art, 82 times as much as to extract the same of the important dailies of New York. This journal gave to then the same as much as to art, 82 times as much as to art, 82 times as much as to literature. It gave to then the same as much as to literature and 12 times as much as to education. The times as much as to education and 21 times as much as to education and the same of the element of papers, but it gave to crime twice as much space as to religion and times as much as to education and times as much as to education and the same to either literature, religion, education or art. The ideal daily newspaper must not be a mere money setting machine. Its editorials must receive no color and no inspiration from its advertising columns, and on the other hand its advertising estumns should be considerationally edited.

AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION SALE.

LOW PRICES FOR THE FIRST NIGHT'S OFFERINGS OF PAINTINGS A GEROME BEAUS THE LIST AT $1.400.

The dissolution sale of the property of the American Art Association began at Chickering Hall lost night, when the first installment of oil paintings was offered to the public. There was not a large attendance, and many of the large buyers who are to congregate at art sales were not repr of pictures this winter, and so many art exhibitions, and the reason is now so far advanced, that it would hardly have been possible to arouse any great interest in the sale, even had it been characterized by imposing canvases and had the financial conditions been favorable for art investment.

The 101 pictures disposed of last night ranged surjously from the tentative product of little-known studies to work that could command big prices in name as well as merit. The signatures of Gerome, Dupré, Daubierry, Corot, Casin, Ziem and Monet were, its always, potent to conjurs with, though the prices obtained were, as a rule, undenladly low. The entire section of last night's sale, however was devoted to the works of the "young fellows" in Parislan studies, and for these the prices ranged

The place of honor for the evening was awarded to Gerome's "liefore the Audience," for which $1.48 was paid. The sales amounted in the aggregate to $23,327. The most notable portion of the collection including the old musters, is to be offered to-night.

Washington, April 25.-The most persistent quiry at the Department of State to-day fails to verify the reported receipt of advices from Minister Taylor at Madrid to the effect that the Spanish Government had made a suitable response to Secretary Greeham's dispatch in regard to the Alliança affair. The Secretary's response to repeated questioning was that he had no news to give out on the subject. It is evident, however, that the present status of the case, if not entirely satisfactory, is not enusing uneasiness at the department, or some impatience over the apparent delay on the part of Spain in responding would have been manifested before this time. It is posible that when the new Spanish Minister, Señor Dupuy de Lome, arrives in Washington, some developments may be made public, but the reticence of all departmental officials on the matter leads to the belief that the incident has not yet been closed ably as it will be when Colonel McLean takes charge there will be no fear of any revolution in that island hereafer. Colonel McLean was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1872, leaving that institution as one of the five honor men of his class. His career in the Naval service until his resignation in 1884 stamped him as an officer of exceptional executive ablaty, and one whose military tastes were so pronounced as to make it certain that his proper sphere was in the military branch. Naval officers generally commond Freedom Dole's chief in the highest terms and feel certain that Colonel McLean's future will reflect credit not only on himself and his country, but on the United States Naval Academy.

Senator Pritchard also believes that North Carolina will send a delegation to the convention ready to vote for free coinage.

MARS AND JUPITER IN JUXTAPOSITION. From the tops of some houses and the towers of tail buildings could be seen last night at 9 o'clock an interesting spectacle. It was the juxta position in the western sky of Mars and Jupite Mars was one and a haif degrees to the north Jupiter, overtaking and passing the last-mained planet. Mars is hardly such a bright red now as he was last fall. Jupiter is still very bright. The place occupied by the two planets when they came into juxtaposition last night was about one-third into juxtaposition less might was about one-initiof the way up to the zenith, and they came as near one another as about three times the diameter of the moon.

Venus, bright and resplendent, the most beautiful star in all the skies, is visible every evening. There will be a particularly good chance for the amateur observer on the evening of Monday, April 23, to have Venus point out Neptune to him, for the juxtaposition of Venus and Neptune will occur at 6 o'clock on that evening. Neptune is not always visible, except to persons having access to an observators. On the occasion of this juxtaposition Venus will be about three degrees to the north of Neptune. Neptune.

A NEWSPAPER FOR INTELLIGENT PEOPLE. From The Yonkers Statesman.

From The Yorkers Statesman.

Fifty-four years ago to-day was published the first number of The New-York Tribune. There was good reason to believe, at the time, that an important event in human history had occurred, but yet the most respectable prophets of that era were 'xcusable if they failed to discern its full significance. Readers of that journal do not need to be informed that its interest and influence are constantly growing, and they are warranted in surrising stat his prosperity corresponds to its repute. If there an intelligent persons who do not read The Tribune, Ver improve the opportunity to appriso them of face which they might easily have ascertained long to their great advantage.

OBITUARY.

JOHN M. BOARD.

in Republican politics in New-Jersey, died at his home in Metuchen, in Middlesex County, late yesterday afternoon in the seventy-eighth year of his age. He was born at Pompton Plains in 1817. In early life he removed to this city and engaged in the real estate business. Afterward he became a contractor in Hoboken. In 1854 he was elected to the Assembly from Hudson County. In 1868 he removed to Metuchen, and afterward attracted attention by abolishing the toll on the bridge across the Raritan River at New-Brunswick, defraying the expenses himself. He became better known in New-Jersey, however, during the early period of the war, when, at his own expense, he equipped men for the front, maintaining their families during their absence and often supplying them with funds in the event of the death of their breadwinners. In this way he rendered valuable assistance to and received the thanks of the Federal Government. One of Mr. Roard's accomplishments was his musical training, lie was proud of the fact that he could play every musical instrument in general use. For many years he was connected with the leading musical societies of New-York City, and for a number of years was organist and choir leader in the old North Dutch Church, in Fulton-st. Mr. Board was at different times chief engineer of the Hoboken Fire Department, secretary of the Drainage Committee under the Sheriff of Husison County, president of the Widows and Orphanis' Fund and of the Exempt Firemen's Association. He was returned to the Association. himself. He became better known in New-Jersey. colopinents may be made public, but the reticence of all departmental officials on the matter leads to the bellef that the incident has not yet been closed.
